morning, and showing the Ampossibility of helding even a Republican county convention without interference:—

Amswille, August 29.—The Republican State Convention met here yesterday at 11 o'clock. Business was anspended and every body turned out to hear what the Rads would say. Only two members of the convention were white, Tolbert and Reller. When Tolbert rose to address the meeting everything was confusion. Our boys cried: "Take him down!" 'Back him!" 'Make him kiss Ab Titus!" Amid the confusion and excitement Col. Others an appeared and attempted to persuade the boys to retire and allow them to go on with the meeting. The boys did not go worth a cent. Col. Cothran was enthusiastically called for by the whites. He mounted the rostrum and delivered short and meaning speech. He told the Rads this is our country and it shall remain ours. Col. Wallingford, of Indiana, was also called for by the whites and responded. The convention proceeded to appoint delegates to the State Convention; Jobb R. Tolbert, M. Goggins, B. Griffin, A. J. Titus and Beverly Vance. A resolution was adopted endorsing the nomination of Garfield and Arthur. Adjourned without disturbance.

An Encouraging View of Indiana.

A prominent professional gentleman of the city recently wrote to his brother in Indiana asking for a statement of the outlook in Indiana as reviewed by one on the field. The letter we print below was received in reply. The writer is a prominent business man at Washington, and has taken a somewhat active part in the campaign, so that his opportunities for observation have been favorable.

Washinoton, Daviers, Co., Ind., September 4, 1880.

You wish to know my opinion of the political situation and Republican prospects in Indians, and I will try to give it to you without allowing my wishes to influence my judgment.

I do not hesitate to give it as my opinion that Judge Porter will be elected by from 5,000 to 7,000 majority, while the majority for the other candidates on the Republican State ticket will be probably 3,000 or 4,000 less.

My reasons for this opinion are:
First—Porter's excellent character; his personal popularity and fine ability as a speaker and worker, as shown by his election to Congress from a Democratic district by majorities of 1,000 and 1,500, and by his success in making friends in the canvass of the State which he is now making.

Second—The unpopularity and unclean record of Landers, which is causing large defections from him in some parts of the State—notably in the New Albany district—and is influencing Democrats in every township in the State to refuse to support him.

support him.

Third—Many of the Republicans who went over to the Nationals or Greenbackers are returning, while many others who have been sufficiently tainted with soft money notions to make them lukewarm, are now heartily at work in the Republicans.

can party.

Fourth—While the Democrats are hesitating and divided, the Republicans are thoroughly organized, perfectly united.

confident and aggressive.

The nomination of English weaken rather than strengthens the Democratiticket in this State. These are some of my reasons for believing that we will certain ly carry the State in October. If I am no mistaken in this is carry the claim of the control of

He Talks to a Party of Indiana Co.

MENTOR, O., September 4.-At half-par 12 o'clock to-day a party of cor travelers from Indiana, with their wives numbering in all forty-five persons, cam on special cars to Mentor and called at General Garfield's house to pay their respects. It was a very intelligent company representing every leading branch of com mercial business. They assembled out on the lawn in front of the house, when the General appeared at the door, and Mr. G. C. Webster was introduced and delivered on behalf of his associates the following

General Garfield—I have been delegate by these friends, who have journeyed so far to see you, to say a word in explans tion of our presence here. Let me ex press the hope that you will not consider us trespassers. We do not come here as the followers of any particular politica party, nor do we come to testify to you services to the country we call our own as that would be both presumptuous and needless; for we believe that not only the living nation, but the nations yet unborn will testify to these things. But we come as commercial men, representing man interests in the State of Indiana. Man of us are vet young men, have but fairly of usare yet young men, have but fairly begun the great battle of life, and we are here to-day to pay our respects to you, as one who, by his own efforts, has raised himself from the poor and lowly boy to the proudest position in the land, and one in the history of whose life we recognize many grand lessons for ourselves, and a constant source of encouragement to the thousands of young men in the land, who, beset by adverse circumstances, are struggling against those circumstances, are struggling against those circumstances, are struggling against those circumstances. tensity of my nature. General Garfield responded as follows Mr. Chairman, ladies and gentlemen can hardly say that you have taken me by surprise, for I was informed some days go that a party of commercial gentlemer rom Indiana would call upon me to-day

The Hartford Evening Post is sanguine that the Republicans will carry Connecticut by from 2,000 to 4,000 majority, and that they will elect three out of four Congressmen and have an overwhelming majority on joint ballot in the Legislature.

The most serious attack which has yet been made on the South Carolina census returns lies in the showing that, in spite of the large reported increase in population, the number of dwelling houses, the estimated value of real estate and the number of cattle and swine have decreased. The Springfield Republican thinks "this is by no means a demonstration. There are plenty of instances in which the valuation of property in a state has fallen off a commany of aurocora landed as a commany of aurocora.

are plenty of instances in which the valuation of property in a state has fallen off while the population has increased." The same thing might also be true of the dwelling houses, but it is not probable that a decrease in all the directions mentioned would go on with a large and remarkable growth in population.

**Nouthern Intolerance.**

The Charleston News and Courier discloses through its news columns the intolerant spirit of the Democratic party in South Carolina in a way more convincing than any of its editorial disclamers to the contrary. Here, for instance, is a special dispatch appearing in that paper of Monday morning, and showing the impossibility of helding even a Republican county convention without interference:

The weather being somewhat unfavorable, the attendauce was considered meagre, as to what it would have been had the weather been suitable, although the attendance was would have been had the weather been a suitable, although the attendance was sufficiently large to make the occasion pleasurable and profitable. As the picnic and Harvest Home was gotten up and conducted in the interests of the Excelsion Brass Band, it was desirous that the efforts put forth be amply compensated, which in some means was realized by the endeavors of many worthy and hospitable friends. Rich and bountiful tables were spread, from which all present seemed to repend the property of the endeavors of the propies. The Excelsion Brass and instruction of Prof. Burke, entertained during the occasion, with music that would have been very creditable to mage of the people. The marked progress with which they have been characterized in the past, will likely in the future win laurels worthy of their steel. Every feature of the occasion was highly graiflying and worthy of commendation, and will likely add encouragement to a cause which the vicinity should maintain.
